

Hello All Central Zone Swimmers, coaches and parents,

The Greater Evansville Aquatic Team and the Boonville Dolphins are excited to welcome you to the new Deaconess Aquatic Center. We are proud to host the Central Zone Multi Cultural meet and hope you enjoy our city and all it has to offer. Evansville began the E is for Everyone initiative to encourage inclusion and diversity within our city and we know that this event will help highlight those efforts by our great city.

Our aquatic center opened in October, 2021 and is located within historic Garvin Park. For any families that will arrive by Friday evening, June 10, we will host an informal social at the Evansville Otters baseball game (tickets $4) with the game starting at 6:35pm CST. We have a reserved section at historic Bosse Field for our athletes and families to sit together. Bosse Field is the third oldest professional baseball stadium in the United States.

The meet gets started at the pool on Saturday morning, 12 and under athletes will swim in the morning session, followed by team pictures for all swimmers at noon. The afternoon session hosts our 13 and over athletes. Saturday night, a banquet will be held for athletes, coaches and parents at the CK Newsome Center. Leland Brown will be our keynote speaker at the banquet. Mr. Brown is the Program Director of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion for USA Swimming.

Saturday morning The University of Evansville's Carson Center Pool will be open to tour, and the new aquatic center at University of Southern Indiana will be available to tour on Sunday morning. USI will have their inaugural swim and dive season this winter.

While in Evansville, swimmers and families are encouraged to visit our local restaurants along Main Street downtown, or in the Franklin Street district and spend your down time enjoying some of our city's attractions like:

- Mesker Park Zoo and Botanical Gardens
- Children's Museum of Evansville
- The Evansville African American Museum
- Museum of Arts, History and Science
- LST 325 Visitors center

Welcome to Evansville, we hope that you find that E really is for Everyone!
